LIVING IN DENMARK

Denmark is widely cited as one of the world's most liveable places and according to the OECD it has the world's highest level of income equality.

Located on Scandinavia's southern edge, Denmark is Europe's gateway to the Nordic region. Denmark is a safe and secure country with a very low crime rate. The Danes are relaxed, informal, and often ironic. "Hygge" – making people feel at home – is an essential part of life. Maybe that is why the Danes have so often been named as the world's happiest people.

Most Danes also have a good command of English, so you can communicate easily even if you don't speak Danish.

LIVING COSTS

The standard of living is high and the economy performs above the European average. Accommodation, food, and transport are therefore relatively expensive in Denmark compared to other countries. On the other hand, salaries are correspondingly high, and services such as medical treatment are free of charge.

LIVING IN AARHUS – DENMARK'S NUMBER ONE STUDENT CITY

The university's main campus is located in Aarhus. From here, beach, harbour, and forest are all within a fifteen-minute bike ride.

With a Top 100 university right in the heart of town, Aarhus is buzzing with students. The city is full of opportunities aimed at young people. Concerts, museums, nightlife, and shopping (as well as the dorms) are all within walking distance.

Down on the harbour, Aarhus boasts the largest public library in Scandinavia, Dokk1 – a cultural centre offering a modern, functional, and visually stunning experience.

Aarhus is known as Denmark's culinary capital and has three Michelin-starred restaurants. There are dining opportunities everywhere and for every budget – from cosy cafés in the Latin Quarter to modern restaurants in the central shopping area.

Welcome to Denmark's number one student city!

HOUSING

No matter where you decide to live in Aarhus, you will never be far away from campus, the city centre or a local green space. Spread throughout the greater Aarhus area you will find parks and public gardens and along the coast you will find marinas, forested areas and beaches where you can enjoy a walk or a swim.

As a student at Aarhus University you are eligible to apply for student housing through the Housing office at Aarhus University and Student Housing Aarhus. CAREER

DURING YOUR STUDIES

Many students in Denmark take student jobs or part-time jobs while they study at university. As an international student at Aarhus University, you are free to use our database for part-time jobs and student jobs: jobbank.au.dk

If you want to pursue a career in Denmark after your studies, you should sign up for one of the ongoing Career and Talent Development programmes for international students at Aarhus University, such as Headstart and Future Talent Denmark. Here you will meet mentors and get a chance to establish a network in a local company. Learning Danish will also expand your career possibilities after you graduate.

AFTER YOU GRADUATE

For Aarhus University graduates, there are many possibilities after university. In Denmark, the unemployment rate is currently about 5 per cent. In 2018 we asked AU classes from 2015–2017 about their employment status, and 90 per cent had a job.

Our career centres at the Faculty of Arts and at Aarhus BSS are available to offer guidance. They also host events specifically for internationals.

WHERE DO GRADUATES WORK?

AU graduates work in hundreds of different companies and organisations on many different career paths. Most students find work in Denmark, but around 10 per cent choose to work abroad. As an international student, it helps to know the Danish language and Danish culture if you wish to find a job in Denmark after your studies.

Here are the top six companies employing the most AU graduates, according to LinkedIn:

- Aarhus University Hospital
- Danske Bank
- Novo Nordisk
- Arla Foods
- Vestas
- LEGO Group

MEET THE STUDENTS

Have you heard that Denmark is expensive,? Are you worried about the language, or maybe whether you can get a student job? Check out what four of our students have to say.

Like many Chinese students, I always expected to go to university in an English-speaking country. I applied to universities in Canada as well, but I ended up choosing Denmark and Aarhus University for a bunch of reasons. One reason was the low tuition fees compared to Canada and the US, another was the level of English. I knew many Europeans speak English and I knew my programme would be in English, but I didn't know detailed stuff, like whether taxi drivers speak English here, or shopkeepers. Once I was living in Denmark, I found out that Danes speak really good English. Every Dane I've met so far speaks English better than me.

Hanshuo Yang, from China
Student, MSc in Computer Engineering programme

For me, Denmark hasn't turned out to be more expensive than what I was used to. Most things here cost about the same as they would in a city in the US. Some things, like rents, are actually cheaper. Things that seem expensive at first, like restaurant meals or haircuts, end up costing the same because you don't have to tip here. And a lot of my classmates like to cook, so we often get together for potluck meals, or we all bring wine and snacks and have a cosy night in. I strongly recommend anyone on a budget to make a point of asking their Danish classmates what they do to keep their spending down. I got lots of great tips that way, like which grocery stores are cheaper or which stores and restaurants give student discounts.

Elizabeth Lauer, from the United States
Student, MA in Intercultural Studies programme

I chose AU for the high quality of the programme and for the city. Aarhus is a university city. It's not like other places, where the university is just a part of the city. It makes student life so much nicer. I have a student job here, which I got through a local headhunting network for computer scientists and students. I work as a software developer for Salling Group (Denmark's biggest retail company). I really like the job, because I get practical experience in my field of studies and they see me as an equal to the full-time employees, so they trust me with real tasks.

Maximilian Scheid, from Germany
Student, MSc in Computer Science programme

I've been in Denmark almost four years now, and I've had a few student jobs. I started with a few cleaning jobs, and that was a good way to begin because it paid my bills. I worked about two to three hours a day, three times a week. After two years in Denmark, I got a job as a student assistant in finance at one of the big wind-turbine manufacturing companies. It's a great job. I work 10-20 hours a week depending on the time of year, and they understand if I need to take a few weeks off during the exam period.

Ivana Kaufmanová, from the Czech Republic
Student, MSc in Business Intelligence programme
